

I travel around 600 miles per week and have found XM to be extremely valuable. My travels take me through rural Alabama which often has radio stations that do not come in as clear as XM. I feel that XM providing traffic and weather, benefits my safety on the road. Subscribers to XM pay a very small fee so that they can enjoy safe and enjoyable travel. When this technology is discovered and purchased by more consumers I feel that a more informed and safer environment for the American driver will be created. Please allow this technology to evolve.
